Hands-on learning through projects for engineering students

Learning happens through hands-on projects rather than traditional lectures with workable solutions meeting customer needs. Selections are made based on application and interviews in May. The academy fosters

Apply to study at the RoboAI Academy!
international collaboration with English as a primary language.